

Volkswagen Group Wörterbuch – Selecting search profiles

Since November 2025, the Volkswagen Group Dictionary offers what is referred to as search profiles. These pre-defined search settings allow users to search in specific terminology databases or in subsets of a given terminology database.

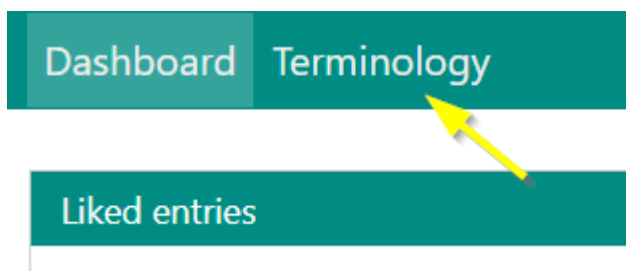

The following search profiles are available at the moment:

Volkswagen Group Dictionary	Provides access to the terminology of the Volkswagen Group Dictionary
Corporate Language Volkswagen	Provides access to customer-relevant terminology that was created and harmonized in the Terminology Harmonizing Process for the Volkswagen Passenger Cars brand.
Porsche Termbank	Provides access to Porsche terminology
TE-Terminologieabstimmungsprozess	Provides access to terminology that was created and harmonized in the Development Terminology Harmonizing Process for the Development division of the Volkswagen Passenger Cars brand.
system42NG glossary	Provides access to terminology relevant for the system42NG project.

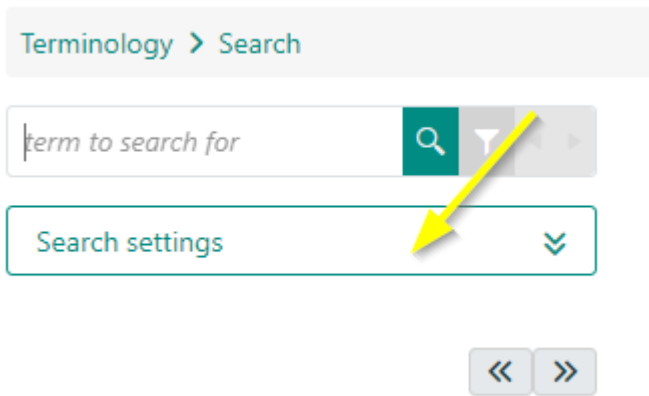

Important note:

The search profile Volkswagen Group Wörterbuch (Volkswagen Group Dictionary) is activated by default for all users logging into the Volkswagen Group Dictionary for the first time.

To change search profiles, go to the Terminology tab.

Open the Search settings menu.

The currently selected search profile is shown under Search profile.

To change the search profile, click on the name of the currently selected search profile. This will open the dropdown menu from which you can select the desired search profile (e.g., Porsche).

The selected search profile is then applied to all terminology searches.

Important note:

The selected search profile is saved when you log out of the Volkswagen Group Dictionary and activated automatically once you log in again.